In letter, Senate Republican Leader Rob Ortt and Deputy Senate Republican Leader Andrew Lanza Call on Senate Democrats to Reject Any Effort to Raise Taxes

In response to the ongoing migrant crisis, Socialist members of the Democratic Caucus proposed a “Migrant Tax” on New Yorkers. Today, Senate Republican Leader Rob Ortt and members of the Senate Republican Conference penned a letter calling on Senate Democrats to immediately dismiss the proposal.

“It is clear that while the governor and her party publicly call it a crisis, it is actually their plan. A plan to undermine the rights and liberties of American citizens. They are hell bent on subjugating New Yorkers to ever more expansive government with crushing taxes, oppressive mandates and crazy un-American policies. However they underestimate the will of the people to live free,” Deputy Senate Republican Leader Andrew Lanza.

The letter states, “We have seen our local resources drained and not only chaos, but danger unfolding. It is deeply offensive that we would force New Yorkers to continue to foot the bill for the failures of Washington and Albany politicians as this crisis grows, a bill that Mayor Adams has estimated will cost the State of New York $12 billion to house and provide services to migrants over the next three years.”

“Just this year, your conferences and Governor Hochul allocated $1 billion of taxpayer funds to New York City to deal with the migrant crisis. New Yorkers have already been forced to shoulder this burden in an already tenuous economy. As members of the Senate Republican Conference, we have consistently stood with the taxpayers of New York State and we urge the Majority to reject any effort to raise taxes,” closed the letter.

“This migrant crisis was fueled by failed Democrat policies in Washington, Albany, and New York City. Now the Socialists in Albany want hardworking New Yorkers to foot the bill. The real solution is simple: Albany leadership needs to revoke the sanctuary status and right to shelter policies in New York to end this crisis. There should be no other idea on the table,” said Senate Republican Leader Rob Ortt.

“It is clear that while the governor and her party publicly call it a crisis, it is actually their plan. A plan to undermine the rights and liberties of American citizens. They are hell bent on subjugating New Yorkers to ever more expansive government with crushing taxes, oppressive mandates and crazy un-American policies. However they underestimate the will of the people to live free,” Deputy Senate Republican Leader Andrew Lanza.

“There's no end in sight to New York's border crisis and true to form, the only answer from some leading Albany Democrats is to want state and local taxpayers to foot the bill for ongoing chaos. It is a complete failure of leadership and common sense at the state and federal levels and it just keeps getting worse. Upstate localities have every right to protect their communities from an onslaught of asylum seekers that threaten to overrun local resources, social services, schools, and budgets.

mention nothing of the public health and safety concerns. New York State taxpayers should never be forced to bail these sanctuary city Democrats out of a disaster of their own making,” Senator Tom O’Mara, ranking member of Finance and Government Operations.

In September, the Senate and Assembly sent letters to Governor Hochul urging her to convene an extraordinary session of the Legislature in order to take action to ensure funding for affected communities, revoke sanctuary status to stem the influx of migrants, ensure local control for communities, and take further actions to ensure taxpayers are protected. Any response from the Administration has been to no avail.
