Brooklyn, NY - At the prestigious International Women's Conference 2024 held earlier this month at Hofstra University Student Center, State Senator Kevin Parker was proud to honor Dr. Neva Helena Alexander, founder, and CEO of Nevalliance. During this Women's History Month, Dr. Alexander, a renowned figure in leadership and entrepreneurship development was celebrated for her outstanding contributions to empowering women globally through education and advocacy.

Speaking at the event, Senator Parker said: "Dr. Alexander's dedication to empowering women and promoting inclusivity through Nevalliance is truly commendable. Adding, "her tireless efforts in advancing gender equality and fostering leadership among women have had a profound impact, not only locally but also globally."

Dr. Alexander is an esteemed entrepreneur and educator who has been at the forefront of empowering women through her company Nevalliance since 2013. A prominent training and development institution, Nevalliance focuses on leadership, entrepreneurship, diversity, and culture inspiring countless individuals worldwide to reach their full potential.

The International Women's Conference was established in 2017 by Dr. Alexander and since then has evolved as a hallmark event during Women's History Month. The event not only celebrates the achievements of women from diverse backgrounds but also addresses critical issues affecting them.

This year's event witnessed participation from prominent leaders, advocates and change-makers who are all united in their commitment to advancing gender equality and women's empowerment.
