Addabbo Supports Local Youth Group Collecting Musical Instruments to Donate to Schools

JOSEPH P. ADDABBO JR. July 10, 2024

Senator Addabbo is proud to support the efforts of Harmony 4 All, which was founded by Bianca Quddus and her brother Joshua Quddus.

Senator Joseph P. Addabbo, Jr. is proud to support Harmony 4 All as the non-profit embarks on its latest endeavor, which is to collect musical instruments from the public to donate to schools in need. This Is an ongoing project with no set end date.

Harmony 4 All was co-founded by Bianca Quddus and her brother Joshua Quddus. They are dedicated to bringing the gift of music to underserved students throughout local schools, because they believe in the transformative power of musical education as a vital form of emotional and intellectual enrichment. By breaking down financial barriers and providing access to musical resources, they empower students to pursue their passion for music and artistic expression.

“Music education plays a vital role in the development of our youth, fostering creativity, discipline, and a sense of community,” Addabbo said. “I applaud the initiative taken by Harmony 4 All to make a positive impact in the lives of students who may not otherwise have access to such opportunities. Their dedication to this cause is truly inspiring and serves as a shining example of the power of community service and collaboration. Let us all join hands in supporting their noble endeavor and work together to ensure that every child has the chance to experience the transformative power of music education.”

To donate a musical instrument, go to the Harmony 4 All website at harmony4all.org and send an email through the “Contact Us” feature.

“Harmony 4 All is incredibly grateful for Senator Addabbo’s support which will help bring the gift of music to underrepresented students, empowering them with creativity, confidence, and a lifelong passion for learning,” Bianca Quddus said.
