Senator presented Armstrong with official Senate Proclamation to commemorate achievement
Senator Dan Stec (R,C-Queensbury) presented Town of Canton Court Clerk Marc Armstrong with an official Senate Proclamation to commemorate his being named State Court Clerk of the Year. Armstrong received this honor earlier in October at the annual New York State Court Clerks Conference in recognition of his 15 years of service and the high esteem he's held in by his fellow St. Lawrence County clerks.

Stec was pleased to spend time with Armstrong and celebrate this significant personal and professional achievement.

“Marc Armstrong is highly regarded by his peers for the instrumental role he plays in helping the Canton court system operate smoothly. He also has a reputation for being an outstanding mentor for new clerks and those in need of assistance,” said Stec. “It was great meeting with Marc and presenting him with a Senate Proclamation in honor of his being named State Court Clerk of the Year. He was more than deserving of this honor and I appreciated having the opportunity to personally celebrate and congratulate him on it.”
