MOBILE
OFFICE HOURS

Senator Rhoads is hitting the road again to meet with his constituents!

New York State Senator Steve Rhoads is bringing his popular Mobile Office Hours program back for its third year, connecting directly with constituents at libraries throughout Senate District 5. This initiative provides a valuable opportunity for local residents to engage in one-on-one conversations with Senator Rhoads about the issues that matter most to their communities. Over the past two years, Senator Rhoads hosted over two dozen successful Mobile Office Hours sessions, demonstrating his commitment to being accessible and understanding the diverse needs of his constituents. The Senator invites all members of the community to schedule an appointment and share their perspective in the first series of one-on-one meetings.

Please call Senator Rhoads' District Office at 516-882-0630 to make an appointment. Appointments required, but walk-ins welcome if time permits. Dates and times are subject to change without notice so please call Senator Rhoads' District Office to verify. More dates and locations to be announced soon.

Although I legislate as a State Senator in Albany, my commitment to the hardworking residents of Senate District 5 remains resolute. I strive to be an honest voice, readily accessible to hear your concerns, and effective in developing practical solutions that address the day-to-day challenges you face. From tackling issues from affordability to public safety and everything in between, I believe in transparency and open communication, and it's this connection to the community that truly drives my fight for common sense in Albany. I am excited to continue meeting with the residents of the district I am very proud to represent, and I cannot wait to hear the ways in which I can better serve our communities. I hope to see you soon," said Senator Rhoads.
