State Senator Gustavo Rivera on Recent Developments Regarding CDPAP'S Transition to a Single FI

GUSTAVO RIVERA April 2, 2025

| ISSUE: CDPAP, LONG TERM CARE, PPL

"My biggest concern about this transition has always been the impact it would have on the program's enrollees and workers. Now that the deadline is here, we are witnessing firsthand the distress that many New Yorkers are experiencing, whether they are losing their care, their employment, or finding themselves in limbo. All of this could have been avoided if this administration had not buried its head in the sand and had listened to the many stakeholders who warned them for months about this nightmare scenario."

"Unfortunately, the latest court rulings will not be enough to stop the state's transition. The resulting service gaps will lead to unnecessary hospitalizations and may force many New Yorkers out of their communities and into more institutional settings. It is now the responsibility of this administration to ensure that those who have chosen to stay in the program are able to successfully and promptly transition to PPL."
