

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Malcolm Smith

Are You Looking for a Job?

MALCOLM A. SMITH May 13, 2008

Thinking about a career in public service? Government careers can be both exciting and rewarding. New York State and local governments offer a broad range of career opportunities, from law enforcement to medical, conservation to education, and much more.

Government jobs offer competitive salaries and benefits, including flexible work schedules. Best of all, New York State and local government jobs are available right here in New York, so you may not have to travel far to find the rewarding career that you seek.

Below are some links that you can use to start your search for the ideal career in public service. In many cases, a written exam or other professional qualifications and experience are required.

You can also search a site that lists jobs available through many private companies in New York State.

Start searching for your new career today. And remember to bookmark this page and check back often, as new jobs are posted regularly.

For public service careers offered by New York State, click here.

For careers in city, county and local governments, click here or here.

For careers offered by the U.S. government, click here.

The New York State Department of Labor provides a website that lists jobs available from many private companies.