Remembering Our Veterans

STEPHEN M. SALAND November 10, 2009

| ISSUE: VETERANS

On the eleventh day of each November, we gather together to pay tribute to our brave servicemen and women, near and far, young and old. As we reflect on the selfless and invaluable contributions of our country's veterans, we must reaffirm our commitment to supporting veterans and their families. Thank you to all of our veterans and their families for their continuing sacrifice and unwavering devotion. God bless them all.
