

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Betty Little

FAQ -- What happens to all of the Lottery Revenue?

BETTY LITTLE December 14, 2009

| ISSUE: EDUCATION

I am frequently asked how much does the New York State Lottery contribute to state education funding.

Below is a simple breakdown of school funding statewide and the Lottery's impact.

Where Do Schools Get Their Money?

Local Taxes: 46 percent ($22.92 billion)

State Sources: 39 percent ($19.23 billion)
(other than NYS Lottery)

NYS Lottery: 5 percent ($2.36 billion)

Federal Sources: 6 percent ($2.75 billion)

Other local revenue and transfers: 4 percent ($2.18 billion)

Traditional Lottery Sales Allocation

Of $6.7 billion in Sales:

59 percent payable in Prizes

32 percent payable in Aid to Education

6 percent payable in Retailer Commissions

3 percent payable for Administrative Expenses

Click HERE for more information about the New York State Lottery.