How You Can Help the Victims of Earthquake & Tsunami in Japan

CHARLES J. FUSCHILLO JR. March 16, 2011

American Red Cross

Our thoughts and prayers go out to the victims of the earthquake and tsunami in Japan.

After seeing the horrific devastation caused by these natural disasters, many people have asked how they can help the victims, who in many cases lost everything they had.

A number of organizations are working to provide relief and aid to the hundreds of thousands of victims in Japan. These organizations are accepting support from concerned residents here at home.

If you are interested in helping any of these organizations, click the links below for additional information:
