Chairwoman of the Senate Agriculture to Continue Her Statewide Agri-Business Tour in WNY

Senator Patrick M. Gallivan (R-59th District) will be hosting the Chairwoman of the New York State Senate Agriculture Committee, Senator Patty Ritchie (R-48th District), at an agri-business forum in Livingston County to hear the concerns, ideas, and expectations of the Western New York agriculture community, and to help inform the senators' legislative priorities for next year.

The forum will take place on October 18, 2011 – 1:00 PM at the Livingston County Government Ctr., Board of Supervisors Room, 6 Court St in Geneseo, Livingston County.

“This event is a wonderful opportunity for all local farmers, growers, producers, wholesalers, manufacturers, and harvesters to discuss the agricultural industry, its challenges, and its opportunities with the influential Chairwoman of the New York State Senate Agriculture Committee,” said Gallivan.

Members of the local farming and agriculture community, and the public are encouraged to attend. For more information please contact Senator Gallivan’s district office at (716) 656-8544.

Senator Gallivan is a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee.
