Senator Charles J. Fuschillo, Jr. (R-Merrick) and the New York State Department of Financial Services (DFS) today teamed up to provide services to homeowners facing foreclosure.

Senator Fuschillo arranged for DFS to bring the Department's Mobile Command Center to the Copiague Library, where trained DFS specialists provided individualized assistance to homeowners in need.

"Families who are facing financial difficulties and struggling to stay in their homes need to know that there are services available to help them. This free program enabled residents to speak one-on-one with trained specialists, ask questions, and learn about services to help them stay in their homes. I'm pleased that we were once again able to offer this important service to local residents," said Senator Fuschillo.

As part of the program, DFS specialists spoke one-on-one with homeowners and assessed where they were in the pre-foreclosure or foreclosure process; informed them about specific loan modification programs which may be available to them; and offered guidance on how they can file complaints with the Department so that suspected cases of lender or mortgage servicer abuses, such as predatory lending practices, can be investigated.

Homeowners who were unable to take advantage of the program but are in need of assistance can call DFS' toll free foreclosure hotline at 1-800-269-0990 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday or visit the Department's website, www.dfs.ny.gov.
