Senator Bill Larkin (R-C-I, Cornwall-on-Hudson) has been named to the New York Farm Bureau's "Circle of Friends" for the 2012 Legislative Session. This recognition is based upon his positive voting record in support of New York agriculture.

"It is an honor to be named to the Farm Bureau's Circle of Friends," said Senator Larkin.

"Our farms are the backbone of New York's economy and have an exemplary reputation for producing some of the world's most desired and delicious products. I consider it a privilege to support their efforts and thank them for including me within their Circle of Friends," said Larkin.

The New York Farm Bureau's "Circle of Friends" membership is reserved for those who actively support the farm families of New York State.
