Senator Dean Skelos and The New York State Senate Salute New York's Veterans

DEAN G. SKELOS November 11, 2012

| ISSUE: VETERANS

While too many people continue to struggle in the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy, we must join together in making a special effort to honor the courage, dedication and commitment shown by all of our Veterans. They are true heroes that are deserving of our respect and admiration each and every day. Because of their dedication and service, the United States remains a beacon of freedom and liberty to the entire world. Thank you for your service to our great nation and god bless America!
