Dozens of employers—many of which are hiring now—will be on hand at the free event. In addition to meeting with employers, attendees will also be able to access information on interviewing skills, tips on how to start your own business and much more.

“The key to revitalizing our region’s economy is getting people back to work. Central New York area is home to so many talented men and women who are ready to join the workforce,” said Senator Ritchie

“My Oswego County Job Fair is the perfect opportunity for job-seekers to meet face to face with employers who are looking to hire and access the tips and tools needed to be successful in their search for employment.”

Last year, more than 1,000 job-seekers attended Senator Ritchie’s job fairs in Oswego and St. Lawrence Counties, which included nearly 100 employers. As a result of these events, hundreds of job-seekers were able to find work.
