George Latimer

Lee Roberts, Former Bedford Town Supervisor, Selected as 2014 Woman of Distinction

GEORGE LATIMER May 15, 2014

(Albany, NY) State Senator George Latimer has selected the former Bedford Town Supervisor and long time community activist, Lee Roberts as the 2014 NYS Senate Woman of Distinction. Roberts served as Town Supervisor from 2003 through 2013 after serving for nine years on the Town Council. Roberts was active in numerous other organizations both related and unrelated to her government service.

Lee has been an active part of the Presbyterian Church, Bedford 2020, the elementary school

PTA, the Library Board and the Katonah Village improvement society among others. Roberts continued her service through her family's church by getting involved in prison ministry and formed the Center for Redirection through Education, which provided college education for inmates at the Bedford Hills Correctional Facility. Simultaneously, Lee Roberts took on several roles dedicated to helping the senior community. First, she became a founding member of ALOFT, an organization that promoted aging in place and provided services that allowed older residents to stay in their homes and then became an active board member of Friends in Service Helping (FISH), which arranged rides for the elderly who were unable to drive or afford transportation.

In accepting the award, Lee Roberts said, "I feel very fortunate to have been Supervisor of Bedford. This wonderful award rightfully belongs to all the residents and employees of the Town who care so much about their community."

Latimer praised Roberts' work and dedication to the Bedford and Westchester communities, "Lee Roberts had many accomplishments and successes in her governmental career but her service to the community outside of those roles is what really sets her apart. By making her family and so many community based activities the fabric of her life, she led by example and made those organizations and causes the fabric of the Bedford community, helping it become the place we know it is today. Lee Roberts has always been an intelligent, pragmatic and diligent elected official and community leader and I look forward to working with her in the various roles that she still maintains."
