

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

George D. Maziarz

Budget Highlights: Transportation, Economic Development, And Environmental Conservation

GEORGE D. MAZIARZ

SENATE PASSES 2008-09 TRANSPORTATION, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND ENVIRONMENTAL CONSERVATION BUDGET LEGISLATION

Legislation Makes Important Investments in New York State's Economy;

Includes Funds for Economic Development and Environmental Protection Initiatives

The New York State Senate passed 2008-09 State budget legislation that makes critical investments in various transportation, economic development and environmental protection projects in order to upgrade our state's infrastructure, create and retain jobs while attracting new businesses and investment dollars, and protect the state's environment.

In addition, the legislation (S.6805-D and S.6809-C) restores funding to important economic and environmental programs administered by the Department of Economic Development and the Department of Environmental Conservation.

Transportation --

The State budget provides for an additional $60 million in CHIPS capital funding over the Executive level and $51 million over the SFY 2007-08 level. The total SFY 2008-09 CHIPS funding is $363 million. The budget also provides $39.7 million in Marchiselli funding for roads and bridges.

The State budget also increases operating assistance over the Executive level by $4 million for the Rochester Genesee Regional Transportation Authority (RGRTA) and $1.85 million for the Capital District Transportation Authority (CDTA). In addition, the budget provides an additional $1.05 million for HELP vehicles in the City of Binghamton, Bronx County, Queens County, City of Syracuse, City of Utica and Westchester County.

Economic Development --

The state budget provides $6.9 million in operating support for the following six Centers of Excellence:

Albany Center of Excellence in nanoelectronics

Binghamton Center of Excellence in small scale systems integration and packaging

Buffalo Center of Excellence in bioinformatics

Greater Rochester Center of Excellence in photonics and microsystems

Stony Brook Center of Excellence in wireless and information technology

Syracuse Center of Excellence in environmental and energy systems

The state budget also includes a $337 million appropriation for the Department of Housing and Community Renewal for targeted housing programs. Additionally, the budget restores funding to the Rural Preservation Program, the Neighborhood Preservation Program, and the Rural Revitalization Program.

Environmental Conservation --

The Environmental Protection Fund receives an historic level of funding of $255 million. The EPF provides $450,000 for the Breast Cancer Environmental Risk Factor Program; $1 million for the Hudson River Park; $1 million for the Pollution Prevention Institute; $2 million for solar energy initiatives and $1 million for water projects on Long Island.

"The 2008 State budget is, thankfully, another positive for the environment," said Senator Carl L. Marcellino (R, Syosset), Chairman of the Environmental Conservation Committee. "The Environmental Protection Fund will receive $255 million -- $5 million more than last year, which is the most it has ever received. I am pleased that the environment continues to be a top priority for the State. The budget we approved today preserves and protects our environment, as well as improves the quality of life for generations of future New Yorkers."

The state budget also includes funding for programs administered by the Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC), including: $1 million for DEC public education programs and $800,000 for children's environmental health centers.

The bills were sent to the Assembly.
