

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Betty Little

Delicious potato chips in the making at Sustain Adirondacks

BETTY LITTLE July 13, 2010

| ISSUE: AGRICULTURE

Senator Betty Little recently joined a contingent of state and local officials for a tour of three Franklin County agricultural businesses. One of the stops was Sustain Adirondacks, whose products are locally sourced within 300 miles or less. That means a majority of the ingredients come from local farms, the products are processed by local hands and sales and profits from the products benefit farmers locally.