

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Thomas F. O'Mara

Governor on Tour

THOMAS F. O'MARA January 14, 2011

| ISSUE: GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS

Governor Cuomo began a “Take it to the People Tour” this week. Jamestown on Thursday. Watertown on Friday. Other stops on the way in the days ahead.

The idea’s being billed as an outreach effort in communities statewide to bring the initiatives the governor spelled out in his State of the State speech last week directly to the public.

As part of this effort, the governor also unveiled a new website to give all of us a chance to share suggestions and ideas.

The governor spelled out an ambitious agenda in his State of the State message, and I’d like to know what you think of it.

Did Governor Cuomo’s State of the State address deliver the right message for New York State in 2011? Share your opinion.
