| ISSUE: EDUCATION

Senator Jack M. Martins spent the morning of the 12th anniversary of 9/11 attending a ceremony at the Clara H. Carlson School in Elmont. The Senator felt it was important to attend the school's ceremony since he feels that it is incumbent on our generation to make certain future generation never forget 9/11.

Many of the schools across Long Island and New York State hold ceremonies to remember 9/11, showing the important of education regarding the events of 9/11 and the acts of heroism and sacrifice that came out of that day.

Principal Ken Rosner of the Clara Carlson School joined with Senator Martins and Marge Dwyer during the ceremonial portion of the remembrance program.
