| COMMITTEE: LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Senator Jack M. Martins met recently with Kids Stock the House, an organization devoted to supporting the Ronald McDonald House of Long Island. Kids Stock the House was founded by Donna Christina Oliverio, who enlisted the help of young people, getting students involved in helping others. Kids Stock the House, comprised on students who selflessly dedicated themselves to helping others, assists families in need by supporting the Ronald McDonald House of Long Island, which provides comfort for those families who have a child undergoing medical treatment.

Ms. Oliverio and some of the students who have played a major role on Kids Stock the House gave a power point presentation to Senator Martins, who complimented the young men and women on their outstanding work. Kids Stock the House has raised thousands of dollars for the Ronald McDonald House of Long Island.
