

The CIA's education and cultural center

TERRY GIPSON June 4, 2014

I toured the construction of The Culinary Institute of America's new education and cultural center. We're fortunate to have such a unique and important academic institution in our community.