Senator DeFrancisco Raises Awareness about Arteriovenous Malformation (AVM) in the State of New York

JOHN A. DEFRANCISCO June 11, 2015

State Senator John A. DeFrancisco is pictured with Kelleigh Gustafson, and Kelleigh's parents and doctor, in Senate Chamber on June 10, 2015. Kelleigh was diagnosed with Arteriovenous Malformation, known as AVM, at the age of four and remains dedicated to promoting awareness about this rare medical condition.

Senator DeFrancisco helped introduce and pass in the State Senate a Resolution memorializing Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to declare July 19-25, 2015, AVM Awareness Week in the State of New York.
