| ISSUE: HEALTH

I was honored to join the University of Rochester to break ground on its new Medicine Imaging Center and William and Mildred Levine Autism Clinic. This state-of-the-art facility will provide advanced diagnostics and treatment in a patient-friendly environment, and will also feature western New York's first stand-alone autism clinic. The William and Mildred Levine Autism Clinic will provide collaborative care for children and families on the autism spectrum, and will help them get the proper treatment and support they need.
