Senator Jack M. Martins (R-7th Senate District) recently served as a guest reader to students in Mrs. O'Hara's third grade class at Munsey Park Elementary School in Manhasset.

Senator Martins took part in the school's "Guess Who's Coming to Read" program, an annual event where community members read to children in grades K-3. As per tradition, children do not know who their class' guest reader will be until he or she walks into the classroom, helping to get them even more excited about the event.

Senator Martins is pictured reading The Bee Tree by Patricia Polacco to students in Mrs. O'Hara's third grade class at Munsey Park Elementary School.
