Fully Fund Human Services in New York

JESSE HAMILTON January 31, 2017

| ISSUE: HUMAN SERVICES, BUDGET, NYS BUDGET

Our investments in human services aid vulnerable populations, help uplift communities, and extend ladders of opportunity to the next generation of New York leaders. We must boost our investment in this critical sector because nurturing healthy human services makes for healthier, higher quality of life communities for all New Yorkers.

Thanks to the coalition of human services nonprofits from across NYS participating in the Restore Opportunity Now campaign for collectively speaking out in favor of taking decisive steps to strengthen our human services sector.
