

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Chris Jacobs

Jacobs Co-Sponsors Bill to Penalize Harboring of Sex Offenders

CHRIS JACOBS June 8, 2017

| ISSUE: CHILD PROTECTION, SEX OFFENDERS, SEXUAL VIOLENCE

(Albany, NY) - New York State Senator Chris Jacobs (60th SD) has co-sponsored a bill that will make it a crime to knowingly harbor a sex offender who fails to register or verify with local law enforcement as required by state law. The bill, which was passed today, establishes an A misdemeanor for anyone who houses or employs the unregistered offender and fails to notify the proper authorities.

“Children and potential victims are placed in great danger by sex offenders who are at large in the community without the knowledge of law enforcement or the proper notification to the surrounding community,” said Senator Jacobs. “The bill passed today creates a legal obligation for anyone housing or employing an offender they know has not registered to report that situation to law enforcement so we can better safeguard our communities against these offenders with high rates of recidivism,” Jacobs added.

The impetus behind this legislation was a tragic case in Florida in 2005 that received national attention. In that case, police investigators believe that had family members divulged that a convicted sex offender was living with them, a nine year-old girl who had been kidnapped could have been rescued prior to her murder.

RELATED LEGISLATION

2017-S2595

- Introduced
- - In Committee Assembly
 - In Committee Senate
- - On Floor Calendar Assembly
 - On Floor Calendar Senate
- - Passed Assembly
 - Passed Senate
- Delivered to Governor
- Signed By Governor
-

Provides that any person who knowingly harbors, houses or employs a defaulting sex offender and who fails to contact law enforcement regarding the offender is guilty

January 13, 2017

In Assembly Committee

Sponsored by Michael H. Ranzenhofer

Do you support this bill?
