Community Cares Breakfast at East Flatbush Community Research School

JESSE HAMILTON November 15, 2017

| ISSUE: EDUCATION

My pleasure to join East Flatbush Community Research School & University Settlement's 5th Annual Community Cares Breakfast. The breakfast served as an excellent opportunity to explore the data-informed perspective the school's leadership shared with us. "Creating our next steps together as a community" was high on the thoughtfully constructed agenda and I appreciated the opportunity to learn from the insights of all able to attend.
