SENATOR NEIL D. BRESLIN February 1, 2018

The Advisory Board consists of select students from the town's three high schools, school administrators and various town officials.

The Colonie Youth Advisory Board came to visit the Capitol today. We had a terrific discussion about a great number of important issues facing society today.

The Advisory Board consists of select students from the town's three high schools, school administrators and various town officials. The board's activities serve to promote civic responsibility with participating students by selecting, planning and implementing projects.

Current projects include volunteering for Colonie Senior Services, fundraising walks, collecting items for social service organizations and assisting at Town special events.
