THOMAS F. O'MARA April 30, 2018

| ISSUE: HIGH ENERGY COSTS

If we do not start remembering that we live in the real world, the cost of heat and electricity will be unaffordable for most New Yorkers.

Senator O'Mara offers his weekly perspective on many of the key challenges and issues facing the Legislature, as well as on legislative actions, local initiatives, state programs and policies, and more. Stop back every Monday for Senator O'Mara's latest column "From the Capitol..."

This week, "We've got to live in the real world"
