| ISSUE: VETERANS HALL OF FAME

ALBANY, NY—Senator Sue Serino (R, C, I, - Hyde Park) announced today that John Martinko of Poughkeepsie has officially been inducted into the New York State Senate Veteran's Hall of Fame.

The Veterans Hall of Fame was founded to honor veterans from across the state who have distinguished themselves during their time in the military and beyond. Each year, every State Senator recognizes and honors an individual from their home Senate District and highlights their accomplishments at a ceremony and reception at the Capitol.

Mr. Martinko and members of his family were in Albany on Tuesday, May 15, 2018 to accept the award at the esteemed induction ceremony.

“There are never enough ways to thank our American heroes for their service, as they have dedicated their lives to fighting for our freedoms. I am grateful that today’s ceremony allowed us the opportunity to recognize these phenomenal veterans for their selfless sacrifices,” said Senator Serino. “I was especially honored to have the opportunity to welcome John Martinko to the Capitol, and recognize him for his service to our country and his continued service here at home throughout our local community.”
