Twelve Corners Middle School Named School-to-Watch

JOSEPH E. ROBACH June 6, 2018

| ISSUE: EDUCATION

Brighton Central School District's Twelve Corners Middle School was recently re-designated as an Essential Elements: School-to-Watch. This is the fifth consecutive time Twelve Corners as earned this national honor as a school that other schools from across the country should seek to emulate. Congratulations to Superintendent Kevin McGowan, Principal Rob Thomas and the whole Twelve Corners School community!
