New York State Senator Michael H. Ranzenhofer has secured $15,000 in state funding for the Newstead Public Library.

“Our local libraries enrich our communities with invaluable services, and this critical funding will assist the Newstead Public Library with providing more programming to their patrons. As your State Senator, I am proud to be a strong supporter of the Newstead Public Library,” said Ranzenhofer.

The funding can be used for a variety of purposes, including capital improvements, new books, learning materials, software, programming and computers. The funding is part of the 2018-19 State Budget. The funding is administered by the New York State Education Department.
