

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Jose M. Serrano

End of Session Update

JOSE M. SERRANO June 21, 2019

Thank you for allowing me the privilege of serving as your representative in the New York State Senate. The 2019 Legislative Session has come to a close, and I'm so proud of all that we accomplished this year as a Democratic Majority alongside our Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins. Together, we made history in Albany and our achievements will make a positive difference in the lives of countless New Yorkers. My colleagues and I passed groundbreaking legislation to combat climate change, preserve affordable housing, stand up for human rights, and protect our most vulnerable residents.

There is nothing more important than preserving our environment for future generations. For this reason, we have taken action and passed the Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act - the most expansive climate change legislation in the nation. I'm also proud that we addressed the affordable housing crisis affecting low and middle income families in New York City by passing the strongest tenant protections in the history of our state. This legislation included provisions from my bill to eliminate the vacancy bonus, which will protect affordability by preventing landlords from raising rents by up to 20 percent after a vacancy.

In addition, we had some monumental victories in the State budget. As a longtime advocate for the right of every child to receive a quality education, I am heartened that the budget provided the largest amount of school aid in the history of our state at $27.9 billion - a $1 billion increase. As Chair of the Senate Committee on Cultural Affairs, Tourism, Parks and Recreation, I was pleased with the major victories in the budget for State Parks, libraries, and cultural organizations.

None of this would have been possible without residents of the 29th Senate District who, for years, have been advocating for these important issues.

There is still much more work to do, and we will enter the next legislative session with renewed purpose to continue the fight for common sense, progressive legislation that will improve quality of life for all New Yorkers. Read below for highlights from the 2019 Legislative Session.

As part of the budget, we created a significant new revenue stream for the New York City Subway, LIRR, and Metro-North, and reduced traffic and emissions by establishing congestion pricing

The New York State Budget included criminal justice reforms that will eliminate cash bail for misdemeanors and nonviolent felonies, ensuring that no New Yorker is incarcerated due to their financial circumstances

Included measures to ensure the right to a speedy trial and transform the discovery process

Included provisions from my bill to close loopholes exploited by employers to discriminate against New Yorkers after their criminal charges are scheduled for dismissal

Decriminalized possession of small amounts of marijuana and ensured that past convictions will be expunged
