Senator Kevin Parker's Bill To Combat Homelessness Among Veterans Signed Into Law

KEVIN S. PARKER November 11, 2019

| ISSUE: HOMELESS VETERANS

Albany, N.Y. — Today, Governor Andrew Cuomo signed into law State Senator Kevin Parker's legislation to authorize a study on the prevalence of homelessness amongst veterans. The findings of the report will then be used to develop and implement real solutions to keep returning servicemen safe and in their homes.

Senator Parker stated: “It is our obligation to make sure that we are well informed of how many veterans here in New York struggle with homelessness so that we are equipped to do all we can to address this growing problem. Supportive wraparound services are extremely important for our vets and we must stay abreast of their evolving needs so that we can adequately address them. I applaud Governor Cuomo and my colleagues in the Legislature for their support of a thorough study that will inform our decision making going forward.”

“On this Veterans Day, we must renew our commitment to improving the quality of life for our Veterans. They protect the freedoms and liberties we enjoy as Americans everyday, and its only right that we do all we can to support them when they return home. The more stability we ensure for our vets, the greater value we reap as a society through their mentorship and civic engagement," concluded Senator Parker
