

Recycle today for a better tomorrow

On average, 4-12 million tons of plastic debris end up in the ocean each year. Sea turtles, fish, birds, and other marine animals can get tangled or ingest plastic debris. This can cause suffocation, starvation, and drowning. 100 million marine animals die each year from non recycled plastic.

