

What Are We Thankful For?

Being thankful means to appreciate what you have. When you are thankful for something you are grateful and you are truly happy to have it. Being thankful shows your happiness and love for something. It shows that you are very grateful to have something and to treasure it. It is something important to you that you hold dear to yourself, something that means a lot to you. I am thankful for many different things that some people aren't lucky enough to have. Here are some things that I am thankful for.

I am thankful for many things, for example I'm thankful for my parents and family who are always there for me. They support me no matter what happens. They are so kind to me they not only help me mentally but also physically. They help me when I'm hurt or sick. They put a roof over my head. They buy me clothes, food and other basic necessities. They will always love me no matter what I do and they will always be there for me when I need them. Sometimes I forget how much they do for me and my siblings and sometimes I take it for granted. I realize that not everyone is lucky enough to have that privilege and I'm so grateful to have them in my life.

Another thing that I am thankful for is having the things that I need to survive, like food, shelter, clothes, and other basic needs. I am thankful for these because a lot of people don't have no these. Many people don't have a home or enough food or money to pay their bills and it is often taken for granted. I understand how important it really is for some people. Some people would be very happy to get even a little bit of food. Not many people think about it but even when you go to sleep at night in your warm, cozy, bed you don't realize that there are people who are sleeping on the floor or on a park bench. Even the things that seem little really make a big difference.

Finally I am thankful for the people who put their lives in danger to keep us safe. I am thankful for the police, firefighters and anyone in the military. They keep us safe and they make sure everyone is protected. I am thankful for these people because they are brave and selfless and they are willing to do whatever they need to do to keep us safe healthy and out of danger.

I am thankful for many things. Many of these things I sometimes take for granted but I will forever be grateful for. My family and the things I need to survive and the people who keep us safe are things that I will always appreciate.
