I'm thankful for my Dad because he can do many things
Like make movies and make his own music. he has brain injury but with a dad like him
I know he is always a cool person and I miss him every day when I go to school. don't Forget my Mother, she is the one that brought me into this world and taught me how to help around the house, believe in god and many other good things.

I'm thankful for my grandparents because i think they're the best in the world
At least in my opinion. My Grandparents were there with me for the whole way, My nana calls me Benj while papa calls me his bugaboo and his #1. They are the best people in the world, they are really the best people.

I'm thankful for my best friend because he was always there for me when i'm alone at times.
And will be my truest friend ever. I'm always excited when I see him on weekends when I get to spend the night with him. He is a fun dude, really funny and we play lots of games like FNAF in a SCP universe.

I'm thankful for my whole family because if it wasn't for them I would not be alive right now.
And I thank them for who they are and I love them from the great beyond. I will always be thankful for them, my favorite family.

I'm also thankful for my life because I love to live my life. Not to be too dramatic
I think my life is perfect and i'm also thankful for my parents for giving me that life
I am always glad to be here and with my family and friends And i love to do everything
With my family.
