

Things I Am Thankful For

I'm thankful for many things. When you are thankful, you're full of thanks. It's a word that expresses either a feeling or showing of gratitude.

One thing I'm thankful for is freedom and being able to wake up and have a feeling that I can have a great day. Another thing I am thankful for is my parents. They are the best and make me feel welcome in any place with them. A third thing I'm thankful for is clean water because some places don't have access to clean water. Another thing that means a lot to me is health and should never be taken for granted. A fifth thing I'm thankful for is friends. Friends will be there for anything. For example if you're going through something your friends should be there for you.

In conclusion you should be thankful for everything because some things can be replaced. So be thankful for everything.
