

There were once two young girls,
Eating fries with curls,
In the sonic parking lot,
They were thankful for life a lot,
Tickled by the taste of caramel swirls.

Nine o'clock strikes,
Applebees appetizers delight,
Surrounded by friends,
Eating spinach dip, chocolate cake and pretzel ends,
Friends really make everything bright.

Be thankful for the small things,
They really are what keeps life sparkling,
Friends and food really do,
Bring out the best in you,
Make memories you will spend time remembering.
