

All that I'm thankful for

By: Vinaesha

I'm grateful for having a broken family, not because of the salty tears I endure but for the lessons I've learned in the process and the people I've met. I am grateful for waking up every morning with clothes on my back, food on the table and a roof over my head. But most of all I'm grateful to wake up to my mother Jessica Centeno she always supporting me mentally and physically. Another person I appreciate is my sister Kristenn Torres she's basically my second mom following in my mother's footsteps. I love that no matter what me and my family is going through we stick together. I'm grateful for my two best friends Madison and Tiana. These are two young women I can actually depend on no matter what the situations are. When I was at my lowest and couldn't get up they were there to help me through every tear, every scar, and every thought I've had. And best of all I'm mostly thankful for God, Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit because even though I've sinned plenty of times, over and over again, He still gives me life and watches over me and teaches me right from wrong and guides me through life.
