Thankful Essay

When you are thankful for something, it means you appreciate what you have. It can be people or things around you that you are thankful for. I am very lucky because I have so many things to be thankful for this year. Some of the things I am especially thankful for are my family, friends, and school.

First off, I am thankful for my family because they care about me. I have my parents, sisters, and grandparents who are always there for me when I need them. They play with me, give me food and shelter, and most of all love. They are there for me when I need it. I love when they cheer me on at my basketball games and my cheer competitions. We go on special vacations and watch movies together every weekend.

Second, I am thankful for my friends because they make me laugh. I have a close group of friends who I always have fun with and cheer me up when I am sad. They always include me and we play games together. This is why I am thankful for my friends.

Lastly, I am thankful for my school because they teach me new things. School also teaches me to be kind to everyone and to be a better person. I make a lot of friends at school. I am so lucky to be a part of a great Catholic school that includes everyone. We also get to go to Mass and be a part of it by participating in the readings and gifts. Father Jerome also comes to our class on Mondays to talk to us about what we are learning.

In conclusion, this is why I am thankful for family, friends, and school. All three of these things are very important to me. I know there are a lot of people that are less fortunate so I am very thankful and appreciative for everything I have in my life.
