What am I grateful for?

Thanksgiving is when many give their love for others.

Helping hands too can show your love.

Appreciation for others shows your true gratitude for others!

November is the time of giving love.

Kindness matters, and is why we give thanks.

So share thanks with many people around you, around the world.

Give thanks to your family, too.

I hold a world, of a mission, of a vision, where people give true thanks and show love for others.

If you want to see true kindness, read this over one more time.

Now you'll see the meaning of Giving thanks!
