

Thankful

By: Ellyana Lupka

*Tis' a thankful time this season
Thankful for all that brings joy and happiness
Thankful for the God that gives me life
Tis' a time to be thankful for all the things that God puts in our hands
Thankful for the food that makes us live
Thankful for the friends that make us strive
The music that makes us thrive
And school that we have to prioritize
The family that keeps us alive
And the roof over our heads that helps us survive
With all the times that people have apologized for their wrong-doings
All the kind times god always forgave and forgot
And all the mistakes that I have caught
To help me untie the knots that life throws at us
For the bus that helps me get to a place of learning
And earning all the knowledge
To help me get to college
And acknowledge all the things I am thankful for*
