

Poem

Leaves are Colorful

Food is Wonderful

But we're forgetting the most important thing

They're easy to love but hard dealing with

And they are our family

Even though we fight with them,

We love them

They comfort you whenever you're sad

We cherish them

We feel guilty for how we treat them

And most importantly

They're family

Meaning that you are united by blood

I am mostly grateful for my lovely family