I am thankful for school. Are you also thankful for school? You learn new things, friendship and fun times.

My first reasons why I am thankful for school is that you can learn new things. A benefit of why you should be thankful for school is education. The educational system teaches us how to obtain and develop critical and logical thinking and make independent decisions. Without your teachers, you would not be able to go on to your future careers. Some studies show that education can increase creativity. “Knowledge is power”, said Francis Bacon from his Meditationes Sacrae (1597).

My second reason why I am thankful for school is that you can make friendships. You want a friend that will be happy for you when you do something great. Friendships build children's self esteem and develop their social skills.

My last and final reason that I think people would love the most about going to school is fun times. Yes, you have to learn in school, but it is also important to have fun. A lot of schools let their students go outside for lunch. That is where a lot of kids have fun with their friends. A lot of schools do fun things with their students. One school I found on a website called “Little Passports” says one of the coolest schools is called Kindergarten Wolfartsweier in Karlsruhe, Germany. It looks like a cat and when the kids go inside it feels like they are being swallowed in a hole. The tail even doubles as a slide. How cool is that?

Now, if you don't like school, has your mind been changed? You can learn new things, friendship and have fun times.
