What I Am Thankful For

By: Aaron Gelb

In 1621, the Native Americans and the Pilgrims had a big meal to celebrate the harvest. In 1863, Abraham Lincoln made Thanksgiving an official holiday.

Today Thanksgiving is celebrated on the fourth Thursday of November. Normally, I don't have a big meal and family members don't usually come to our house. This year I am thankful for my family, my friends, and my house.

I am thankful for my family. I am thankful for my mom because she helps me with my homework if I need it. I am thankful for my dad because he loves me and cares for me. Sometimes he lets me use his phone when he drives me to my school bus stop. I am thankful for my brother because he loves me and helps me if I need it. He also keeps it private which I like. This is why I love my family.

I am thankful for my friends. I am thankful for Jacob because we have been friends since 2nd grade.

I am thankful for Aaron V. because he is a good friend and a Yankee fan just like me. I am thankful for Benvia because he is also a Yankee fan and helps me and talks to me sometimes. This is why I am thankful for my friends.

I am thankful for my house. I am thankful for my room because I have a comfortable bed to sleep in which helps me to have energy. I also have a large desk to do my homework on. I am also thankful for my computer because I can watch Youtube and play games on it. I am also grateful for my basement because I do all my projects there. It is also my main playing space. This is why I'm thankful for my house.

Over 400 years ago, the Pilgrims and the Wampanoag had a feast which is known as the first Thanksgiving.

Over 150 years ago, President
Abraham Lincoln made

Thanksgiving a holiday we observe to this day. Thanksgiving is observed on the last Thursday of November. I don't usually have people visiting my house on Thanksgiving, but I still have a lot of fun. My family, my friends, and my house are some of the things I am grateful for this year.
