The Thanksgiving Essay

By: Shayna Mayzler

In 1863 Abraham Lincoln made Thanksgiving an official holiday. Today Thanksgiving is celebrated on the fourth Thursday of November. We celebrate Thanksgiving by thinking about what we are thankful for. For Thanksgiving my family eats chicken and apple pie. Then we watch the football game. I am thankful for my family, my friends, and my bird.

I am so thankful for my family. My mom is super sweet. She always cheers for me during every competition no matter what place I get! When I get sick she makes me sweet tea and soup. My dad is super helpful. Whenever I need help with my homework I always go to him and he helps me.

My older brother, Emmanuel is so funny. Whenever I am sad he cheers me up, and makes me laugh. My grandma is so kind. She makes food for me even when I'm not hungry.

I am so thankful for my friends. My best friend Katie is super sweet. Whenever I am sad she comes to me with a big smile and makes me feel better. My best friend Keren is super generous. Whenever I need something and don't have it she always lends me hers. My friend Sarah is so loyal. Whenever someone is being mean to me she always stands up for me.

I am so thankful for my bird. My bird Kiwi is super funny. Whenever I am tired or sick I go to my bird and he starts singing to me. He usually just says his name or he says "It's so nice outside." That's why I'm thankful for my bird.
