

Thankful For

November is a month when we celebrate and reflect on the things we are thankful for. There are many things in my life that fill me with gratitude. These are, my dogs, my family, and my life. These are 3 things that make me appreciate my life and my abilities.

I am thankful for my dogs because they are loving animals and are always happy to see me when I get home. A special memory I have with them is when I got them and when they were babies. I love playing with them, running around and hugging them everyday.
