

My Life and Family

I am thankful for my friends. They help me when I need it, and they are here for me. They care about me, and I care about them. If they need me, I'm here for them. I lost my best friend. She moved, but I miss her. Sometimes I cry because I miss her, but if she needs me I am here for her. I love her. We are best friends forever.

I am grateful for my dogs. They are there when I am sad. They will sleep on my legs. I love them. I care so much that if there was a fire I would run in and get them, and I would never allow anyone to hurt them.

I am thankful for my family. They are there when I need them. They love me so much, and I love them. I have a brother and sister. I'm not with them right now, but I care so much for them that if they ever need me, I would drive to them. I may not see them, but I do care for them.
